What is the determination of criteria and eligibility process?

A variety of sources will be used to assess your eligibility for services. The determination of eligibility shall be made as soon as possible, and not to exceed 60 days after you have submitted your Referral for Vocational Rehabilitation Program services. A College of Menominee Nation (CMN) Vocational Rehabilitation Program counselor will determine eligibility and provide a written statement.

To Be Eligible for Services you must:

- Be a member of a federally or state recognized Native American tribe or Alaskan Native
- Have a physical or mental impairment that results in a substantial impediment to employment
- Reside on the Menominee Indian Reservation, or within a “30 mile” radius of the reservation
- Require VR services to prepare for, secure, retain, advance in, or regain employment

In instances when eligibility is denied, a written statement will provide reasons for ineligibility, a notice of appeal rights, and information about the Client Assistance Program (CAP).

What will happen after I am found eligible for CMN Vocational Rehabilitation Program services?

A Menominee Vocational Rehabilitation Program counselor will meet with you and assist you in developing your Individualized Plan for Employment (IPE). You are a full and equal partner in every step of the vocational rehabilitation process, so the length of time to achieve your goal depends on several factors. These include your chosen career, your disability, and your motivation to accomplish your goal.

After your IPE is approved, the work begins to achieve your goal of employment.

Menominee Vocational Rehabilitation Program can assist you in these ways:

- Employment Preparation
- Employment Preparation for Self-Employment
- Career Counseling
- Job Search Activities
- Work Experience
- Vocational/Technical Training
- GED or HSED
- Class or Training Needs
- Workplace Needs
