

Nursing

Associate of Applied Science in Nursing

72 Credits

An Associate of Applied Science in Nursing will give the skills necessary to succeed in a professional nursing career. The graduate will be prepared to take the National Council Licensure Examination (NCLEX) exam. Upon successful completion of the exam the graduate will receive licensure as a registered nurse.

General Education Requirements		35 credits	Completed
COM100	* Introduction to Oral Communication	3 cr.	_____
ENG101	* Introduction to College English	3 cr.	_____
MAT106	* College Algebra	3 cr.	_____
Natural Science
BIO202	Principles of Biology	5 cr.	_____
BIO204	* Anatomy and Physiology	5 cr.	_____
BIO207	* Microbiology	4 cr.	_____
Social Science
HUD 210	Introduction to Human Development	3 cr.	_____
PSY 100	Introduction to Psychology	3 cr.	_____
SDE100	Introduction to Sustainable Development	3 cr.	_____
Humanities
ANT200	* Introduction to Native American Cultures	3 cr.	_____
Emphasis Course Requirements		37 Credits
NUR110	* Nursing Fundamentals	2 cr.	_____
NUR111	* Fundamental Nursing Skill	3 cr.	_____
NUR120	* Nursing Pharmacology	2 cr.	_____
NUR130	* Introduction to Clinical Practice	2 cr.	_____
NUR150	* Nursing Health Promotion	3 cr.	_____
NUR151	* Clinical Care Across the Lifespan	2 cr.	_____
NUR160	* Nursing Health Alterations	3 cr.	_____
NUR161	* Introduction to Clinical Care Management	2 cr.	_____
NUR201	* Complex Health Alterations	2 cr.	_____
NUR202	* Intermediate Clinical Practice	3 cr.	_____
NUR210	* Mental Health and Community Concepts	2 cr.	_____
NUR211	* Advanced Nursing Skills	1 cr.	_____
NUR250	* Complex Health Alterations II	3 cr.	_____
NUR251	* Nursing Advanced Clinical Practice	3 cr.	_____
NUR260	* Nursing Management and Professional Concepts	2 cr.	_____
NUR261	* Nursing Clinical Transition	2 cr.	_____

TPN coursework can not apply to the ADN Program.

Courses that have an * in front of them, are courses that have a prerequisite. Please check the course index to ensure that you know what the prerequisite is and plan your schedule accordingly.